MESSAGE FROM THE INTERIM DEAN

MYRON F. FLOYD

It has, once again, been an outstanding year for the Paper Science and Engineering program at NC State. As you will read, our students continued to gain valuable hands-on experience to help them grow professionally and personally, our faculty were recognized for their outstanding accomplishments, and our juniors and seniors visited Spain for the biennial Paper International Experience (PIE).

The Paper Science and Engineering program continues to boasts 100 percent job placement and some of the highest starting salaries on campus. Thanks to the many local and international relationships the program has with industry, our students graduate career ready with in-depth knowledge gained through internships, co-ops and study abroad. These extraordinary opportunities not only expand our students' skills, they prepare them to work in a global economy and help them land job – often before they have even graduated.

Opportunities like PIE would not be possible without the support of our alumni and friends. In fact, many of our students would not be at NC State at all without the scholarship support provided by our generous donors. In addition to financial support, the strong network that our alumni, friends and industry partners provide for our students is truly unmatched.

I am honored to have taken over as interim dean for the College of Natural Resources this year. After spending 14 years in the Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management, it is a privilege to lead our college and have the opportunity to help advance critical programs such as Paper Science and Engineering.

The college is indeed on a strong positive trajectory thanks to Dr. Mary Watzin's leadership as dean and the important contributions from our entire College of Natural Resources community. Because of our collective strength, we will remain at the forefront of creating solutions to complex natural resources challenges. We have great opportunities to Think and Do the Extraordinary for years to come! I look forward to working with all of you in my new role.

Myron F. Floyd

Interim Dean, NC State College of Natural Resources

REPORT FROM THE ADVISORY BOARD

On behalf of the executive team and advisory board, greetings from the Pulp and Paper Advisory Committee. We are honored to serve in a leadership capacity for this wonderful group of dedicated individuals, serving a powerful industry.

This has been a busy year filled with many activities and accomplishments. We hosted two celebration banquets in order to execute the board's plan to better balance our activities on an annual basis. We are excited to see the benefits of focusing on student onboarding, career fair, industry recruiting and a working board meeting to kick off our fall; along with a celebration banquet and golf tournament in the spring, accompanied by a second board meeting and general session with students, alumni and industry alike. We are optimistic about these changes.

Simultaneously, we began evaluating our current financial status to determine where we could invest funding for maximum impact. We are excited to announce that we have begun work in our pilot facility with $100k allocated towards this effort; supported a graduate student leadership seminar and retreat with $5k and will be working to spend $10k on retreats for new undergraduate students in the fall and spring. We are excited to benefit from these investments.

In addition to these great efforts above, our group supported the largest Paper Industry Career Fair to date; helped the students reach their $45k fundraising goal for the Paper International Experience (PIE) trip to Spain and maintained an excellent service record through our committee work. As always, we continue to provide the support of our industry that places our graduates at the top of all engineering disciplines for starting salary and job placement, and engage alumni through class contests, reunions and local events so that we all continue to be a part of our "paper science family" no matter the years or the distance.

We have a lot to be thankful for and it would not happen without the involvement of our board members, dedicated alumni and friends, industry partners and our faculty and staff. We encourage you to advocate on our behalf and recruit new industry partners, committee members, board members and volunteers. Our program and reputation were built on generations of volunteers and advocates before us that help us pursue our goal of a world class, world renowned program.

We look forward to a new academic year with a large, diverse and unique freshman class, as well as 17 new additions to our rising sophomore group. Thank you for your dedication, support and time.

CORPORATE DONORS

Our advisory board is grateful for the continued support of our corporate donors and the individuals within their organizations who make NC State a priority. We recognize the many ways that companies support our efforts: corporate gifts, the hiring of summer interns, co-ops and graduates and various other activities and efforts throughout the year.

THANK YOU!

IMPACT OF GIVING

Donors Make “PIE 2019 – Spain” a Possibility

Gracias

The 2019 Paper International Experience was an amazing opportunity to see #SomethingDifferent across Spain. Our entire group would like to recognize and send our heartfelt gratitude to all the donors, industry partners, and NC State faculty and staff whose generosity made this trip a possibility. We are all so thankful to be a part of a program and an industry that are so invested in our learning and networking opportunities!

Los Lados de España

In ten days, we managed to see multiple different sides of Spain – including the colorful city center of Madrid, the historical Gothic architecture of Segovia, the unique language of the Catalan region, the quaint city streets of Pamplona, and the breathtaking coast of San Sebastian. The vibrant culture, stunningly intricate architecture, and delicious options for food and drink left the whole group impressed with each new destination. We toured palaces, castles and cathedrals, visited a winery in the beautiful countryside, hiked around pristine beaches, and even went to an entire museum about antique paper making housed in an old facility. And, of course, we ate plenty of tapas and pintxos!

Fábricas de Papel o Papeleras

We were also lucky enough to have the chance to visit five different manufacturing facilities.

- International Paper Madrid - a recycled facility that had recently converted a newsprint machine to a liner board machine.
- Domtar Personal Care Toledo - converting operations that produce a wide range of products, from adult briefs to feminine hygiene pads.

- Ecker Mill Valencia - 100% recycled board manufacturer that is a family-owned operation with a single cylinder vat forming machine.
- SAICA Burgo de Ebro - 100% recycled facility with a large gap former machine and an off-machine coater.
- Smurfit Kappa Navarra - the only mill with an integrated kraft operation and the one that introduced us to machine-glazed papers used in fast-food wrappers, shopping bags, and produce dividers.

Experiencia Increíble

This trip was an incredible experience that we will never forget. Our time spent abroad was invaluable to our personal and professional development. Each facility that we visited gave us informative tours and allowed us plenty of opportunities to ask questions about their processes, business strategies, and mill cultures. In addition to seeing some new and advanced manufacturing processes, we all enjoyed the opportunity to spend time with old friends and create bonds with new ones. Whether we were popping in and out of tapas restaurants in Madrid, peering into hydropulpers, climbing seemingly endless stairs in Barcelona, tracing felt patterns on a paper machine, or sitting on the beach in Sitges, we were all having an amazing time experiencing a new culture and enjoying each other's company.

We would like to extend our thanks again to everyone who made this trip possible – thank you to our generous and gracious hosts at the facilities we toured, to our faculty and staff who planned and orchestrated this entire venture, and to our donors, without whom this trip would not have been a possibility. We are excited to start thinking about PIE 2021 and where the group will head next!

IMPACT OF SERVING

The NC State Paper Science and Engineering program is undoubtedly unique – it is one of less than ten similar programs in the United States, it has close ties with industry partners, and it sports an incredibly active alumni network. These intimate industry and alumni connections help provide recruitment, retention, development and career opportunities for students; an active network for alumni and talent and leadership for our industry and corporate partners.

The secret to our success is the thousands of volunteers hours behind everything we do from students, faculty, alumni, and corporate partners alike. The Pulp and Paper Advisory Committee (PPAC) has a 40 person Board of Directors, that, along with other alumni and friends, serve on committees to positively impact all aspects of our program. We have six standing committees that meet quarterly as listed below:

- Annual Meeting Planning - works to set the direction, theme and tone of each board meeting and our annual banquet and general session
- Corporate Development - cultivates and enhances our corporate partnerships for funding, equipment donations, special projects and intern, co-op and full time hiring, to name a few
- Individual Giving/Alumni Relations - responsible for connecting and engaging our alumni network with our class contest, alumni reunions and regional alumni events
- Program Advisory - works with the undergraduate coordinator and other faculty to ensure our curriculum is meeting and exceeding the needs of our industry and plays an important role in our ABET accreditation process
- Scholarship – helps develop the paper science scholarship application, reviews all submitted applications and makes recommendations for the awarding of scholarships
- Student Advisory – acts as the liaison between the PPAC, the board and the student body; making sure information is shared with the students, assistance is provided where needed and plans and executes at least one professional development event annually

“I enjoy working with students and saw the Scholarship Committee as a way to give back to the program that was good to me,” says Jack Lowdermilk, Class of 1982, retired Solenis employee and a seven year veteran of the scholarship committee. “I’m excited to see the quality of students that the program is attracting and what all volunteers are doing to feed, maintain and grow the program. I know that it is contributing to the program’s sustainability.”

It is this type of dedication that sets the NC State Paper Science and Engineering program apart from all the rest. We want to thank all of the board, committee members, alumni and volunteers for their commitment to the betterment of our program. We not only strive for excellence, we strive to be world class!

“A significant difference between my home country of France, and the US is that here, there’s a lot of focus on the student’s leadership, involvement and service minded attitude and what they want to be a part of going forward,” she notes, “there is a much higher focus on giving back. The faculty here really care about the students because they see bright students leading the future. We are relying on the students to be in charge of the industry’s future. I am delighted to be a part of the Scholarship Committee. It has rapidly increased my understanding of the American education system.”

UPDATE ON THE PSE PROGRAM 2018-19

Dr. Med Byrd, Undergraduate Coordinator

The formula that consistently makes the PSE program this strong is still the same: motivated and high achieving freshman and on-campus transfer students, great hands-on experiences, amazing and challenging internship and co-op opportunities, plus strong full-time job placement.

I continue to be amazed at the quality of our incoming students – one of the most talented cohorts coming onto the NC State campus. Thirty-seven students joined us as PSE-intended majors in the fall of 2018. After one semester, twelve of these students (32 %) had a grade point average of 4.0, while another eight (22 %) had a grade point average between 3.8 and 4.0. Overall, the group's average grade point average was 3.7. Better yet, this level of academic achievement was maintained after the second semester.

But these students are not “academic egg-heads.” As they showed us in mock interviews, real interviews, our first-year leadership class, and the first-year retreat, they are accomplished in many ways – clever, funny, spirited, and not afraid to work. The companies that hired them last summer have discovered that already!

The news about the benefits of being in PSE has spread across campus. In the second semester, we added seventeen first-year students who started out intending to go to other programs. Most of these students have outstanding academics on par with our starting students.

We continue to find ways to make our curriculum more modern and relevant, and to provide more impactful hands-on learning opportunities. Some highlights include:

- A grant from the International Corrugated Packaging Foundation allowed us to install a modern CAD design table for packaging design, along with advanced 3-D design software. This machine is amazing, and will be incorporated in a variety of ways in our curriculum
- Dr. Nathalie Lavoine pioneered her new course PSE 370, Pulp and Paper Products and Markets, in the spring semester. The course received great reviews from students and will be a required core course for all students starting at NC State in fall of 2019 and beyond.
- Students have been enrolling in the very popular Process Control Certificate. We are also encouraging them to consider the new Engineering Data Analytics certificate offered in Industrial Engineering. This combination could be highly valuable in helping students prepare for future directions in our industry.
- Our undergraduate research program continues to grow because of new funding. This past summer, eighteen undergraduates worked on research and pilot plant projects, providing them with much needed income while giving them meaningful work experiences. This program is especially useful for students who had to be on campus taking summer courses due to a co-op rotation in their prior year.

Our new Student Services Assistant, Brittany Hayes, successfully navigated her first full academic cycle and is making great progress personally and for our department. Last year was also replete with abundant internship and co-op offers, and we had 100 % full-time job placement for the year. By any definition...a successful year!

You – our supporters, donor and friends – are also a part of this success equation. We thank you for all that you do to help us recruit, retain, train, and place our students, while educating them in our world class environment.

GRADUATION TO VOCATION

Sam Melikian graduated in May 2019 with a degree in Paper Science and Engineering, a minor in Business Management and a varsity wrestling letter. He moved to Little Falls, New York to work at Twin Rivers Paper as well as coach the local school wrestling team.

How has the College of Natural Resources impacted you and prepared you for your future?

CNR has had an enormous influence on preparing me for my future and career. There are so many resources throughout the college whether it be career fairs, interview resources, or just having a professor or faculty member around to talk with. The Paper Science and Engineering program, in particular, has helped prepare me for all aspects of my job, including ethics, environmental concerns, engineering problems, and capital investment analysis.

What is unique about your work?

Every day in a paper mill is unique. New challenges arise, new opportunities are available, and the industry is constantly changing. I think working as a process engineer in a paper mill is an interesting mix of various fields – environmental, business, and many engineering aspects. I've also found that most people in the mills I've worked at will go out of their way to answer any questions I have and educate me on areas of the mill or the papermaking process that they are particularly knowledgeable in.

What motivated you to pursue your work?

I really liked all the faculty and students I met that were in the PSE program when I was exploring which engineering degree to pursue. I sensed immediately that the PSE department is a tight-knit community. Dr. Byrd, in particular, struck me as one of the most passionate and motivated individuals I have ever met, and I wanted to be in a program where I could surround myself with students and professors like him. I knew that the PSE program was the best place for me to obtain a degree that would provide me with an enjoyable, impactful, and rewarding career.

What advice would you give students entering your major or field?

Take every opportunity you have to broaden your knowledge outside of your academic work. Read books for fun, stay up to date on current events, listen to podcasts. While your college years are a great time to have fun, they also provide a great opportunity to learn as much as you can about anything that interests you or that may help you further your career and expand your interests.

"My first few months as an alumnus in the paper industry have been nothing short of amazing! I feel well prepared by the program and my previous work experiences. I am taking on more responsibility each day, while enjoying my time in the mill and community. I am grateful for the individuals that invested time, support and resources in my educational experience. I look forward to investing in the lives of others in that same manner throughout my career."

EXCELLENCE IN ACTION

The Department of Forest Biomaterials had a very successful 2018-19 academic year. Many of our faculty, staff and graduate students were nominated for awards internally and externally. The department would like to recognize our award winners for their expertise, efforts and dedication.

Dr. Med Byrd, George Blessis Advising Award in the College of Engineering

The award recognizes faculty members who consistently and willingly give their time and effort to advising, counseling and mentoring students and assisting student groups. It is also a continuing memorial to George H. Blessis, a faculty member whose interest in undergraduate education and advising serves as an example today.

Dr. Med Byrd, Forest Biomaterials "Passion Award"

The first recipient of this annual award within our department, Med always strives for excellence, bolstering the well-being of our students through his valuable mentorship. Dr. Byrd is full of positive, forward-moving energy, which is truly the soul of our Department. His dedication has no boundaries.

Dr. Ronalds Gonzalez, University Faculty Scholar

Established in 2012 by Chancellor Woodson, this program recognizes and awards emerging academic leaders who demonstrate significant achievement in their areas of work. This elite group of faculty carry this title for the duration of their career at NC State.

Paula Harrod, Pride of the Wolfpack Award

The Pride of the Wolfpack Award recognizes individual employees for a special or unique contribution to their department and college. Paula is dedicated, hardworking, patient and joyful in all she does and strives to impact results and individuals every day.

Matt Kollman, Graduate Research Assistant, CNR Excellence in Safety Award

With a strong emphasis on safety in our college and department, Matt has worked hard over the past few years to improve our safety culture by fostering a positive and collaborative work environment and promoting accountability and communication.

Dr. Nathalie Lavoine, 2019 Polymer Science and Engineering Young Investigator Award ACS

This award recognizes emerging leaders who have made significant engineering and is awarded by the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Sunkyu Park, Outstanding Teacher Award

This university wide award recognizes excellence in teaching at all levels. Dr. Park teaches 2 undergraduate and 1 graduate level course and is the EJ "Woody" Rice named professor in our department.

Dr. Joel Pawlak, National Football Foundation, Faculty Athletics Representative Excellence Award

NC State and Dr. Pawlak are being recognized for their efforts in fostering excellence among student-athletes. "Dr. Pawlak serves our institution, athletics program and makes a meaningful difference in the lives of our student-athletes," said NC State Director of Athletics Deborah Yow, "We are appreciative of his ongoing commitment to fostering the academic growth of all of our student-athletes on their way to graduation."

Dr. Yuan Yao, National Science Foundation CAREER Award

"The CAREER award is NSF's most prestigious award for early-career faculty members, recognizing their potential to be academic role models in research and education and to lead advances in their fields and their universities. Dr. Yao's achievement speaks to her enormous talents and the importance of the research and modeling she is doing to build a sustainable bioeconomy," Dean Mary Watzin said.

"Forest Biomaterials strives to be world-class in all we do. Recent awards recognize the excellent contributions and achievements of our faculty, staff, and students. As Department Head, it is my privilege to work along side this ambitious and dedicated group of individuals"

HANDS-ON AND FUTURE FOCUSED

NC State Pulp and Paper Advisory Committee partners with alumni, corporations, friends and foundations to generate support for the continued success of the Paper Science and Engineering Program in the Department of Forest Biomaterials. Gifts to the NC State Natural Resources Foundation support scholarships, professorships, academic programs, research, facility and lab improvements and various student programs.

Thank you for making an investment in the future of the Pulp and Paper Industry.

The Pulp and Paper Advisory Committee is proud to be a part of the NC State Natural Resources Foundation, Inc. All of our events and activities are proudly supported by this foundation. The NC State Natural Resources Foundation, Inc. supports the success of the college through management and stewardship of assets resulting in scholarships, fellowships, professorships, academic programs, research, facility and lab improvements and various student programs.
